

POSITIVE LIVING
POSITIVE HOMES

Are you interested in helping us understand your housing situation and experiences?

The Positive Living, Positive Homes study is looking for adults living with HIV/AIDS in Prince George to participate in research on housing for people living with HIV/AIDS in BC.

What is Involved?

- One interview in the summer/fall of 2015 (lasting 1.5 – 2 hours)
- A follow-up interview one year later (lasting 1 – 1.5 hours)
- $25 for participation, plus childcare costs and travel reimbursement if needed, for each interview
- Questions will be about your housing history, your health, experiences accessing housing and shelter, and use of services in your community

Study Objective:

- To better understand the housing and health experiences of people living with HIV/AIDS
- To explore the successes and challenges of HIV and/or housing services and policies

Who is eligible?

- Adults living with HIV/AIDS in Prince George
- Participants can be living in any type of situation, including homeless, stably housed or in supportive housing

If you are interested in taking part in this study or for more information, please contact the PLPH Research Coordinator for Prince George at:

778-349-7402 or pgplph@pacificaidnetwork.org

For more information on the study, visit: www.pacificaidnetwork.org/PLPH

This study is being co-led by the Pacific AIDS Network and the University of Victoria, along with a community-based team comprised of people living with HIV/AIDS, housing and HIV/AIDS service providers, policy makers and government representatives.

University of Victoria

CIHR IRSC
Canadian Institutes of Health Research
Instituts de recherche en santé du Canada

This study is funded by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) Institute of Infection and Immunity: HIV/AIDS.